Instructions

It is a condition of each combat sport contest permit issued under the Combat Sports Act 2013 that the promoter of the combat sport contest must provide to the Combat Sports Authority (the Authority), in the manner and form approved by the Authority, not less than 5 days before the day of the combat sport contest, a plan for evacuating any injured combatant from the premises where the combat sport contest is held, being a plan prepared in the manner and form approved by the Authority.

The promoter of the contest must fully complete and provide to the Authority this Injured Combatant Evacuation Plan, including and any attachments, by sending to combatsports@sport.nsw.gov.au not less than 5 days before the day of the combat sport contest.

It is recommended that the promoter for the contest communicate the proposed Injured Combatant Evacuation Plan with the contest venue and the medical practitioner(s) attending the contest prior to it being provided to the Authority.

It is also a condition of each combat sport contest permit that the promoter of the combat sport contest must ensure that any contest does not commence unless the promoter, each referee, and the attending medical practitioner, appointed for each contest have attended a briefing with the combat sport inspector at which the following are communicated to the referee, attending medical practitioner and combat sport inspector:

- (i) the rules made by the Authority under section 107 of the Act that relate to the particular combat sport (which must be communicated verbally),
- (ii) a title of the sports rules that relate to the particular combat sport involved in the combat sport contest and an explanation of when the rules made by the Authority will override those sports rules (which must be communicated verbally),
- (iii) the plan that the promoter provided to the Authority for evacuating any injured combatant from the premises used for the combat sport contest (which must be communicated both verbally and in writing).

The promoter for the contest must comply with all conditions imposed on the contest permit and confirm to the combat sport inspector at the pre-contest briefing that the Injured Combatant Evacuation Plan provided to the Authority is unchanged.

The promoter for the contest must also confirm at the pre-contest briefing that the Injured Combatant Evacuation Plan route is clear and accessible by a stretcher trolley and paramedics with medical equipment, and details on the how the evacuation route will be monitored throughout the contest to ensure it remains clear and accessible.

The promoter of the contest must provide sufficient copies of the Injured Combatant Evacuation Plan at the pre-contest briefing and provide copies to all relevant persons at the contest.

Warning: The Authority may take disciplinary action against a registered Promoter if the person has contravened, or the Authority has reasonable grounds to believe that the person is likely to contravene, a condition of the person's registration or a permit issued under this Act.
